CUSTOMS RECEIPTS DOWN IN CUBA.

General Brooke Issues an Order That Will Allay Much Grumbling.

WILL BE NOW FOR PUBLIC BENEFITS.

One Province Will Not Be Bled for Another as Has Been in Former Rulings.

ENOUGH MONEY TO PAY ALL EXPENSES.

Customs Revenues for the Island for the Year Ending Next December Will Reach Between $13,000,000 and $14,000,000.

Havana, April 22.—General Brooke's recent order specifying the duties to which the receipts from the Cuban customhouses are to be applied will do much to banish the confusion which has reigned for some time past in the island's finances. I thereto complain that in the outlying provinces the considerable share of the customs revenues has been diverted monthly to the civil service. The expenditure has brought little or no general return.

In the province of Santiago, contributed to the island treasury by $1,000,000 of customs receipts and received in exchange no public benefits except those of the newly organized postal service, which is again expected through the sale of stamps to pay its way in whole or in part. The expenses of the civil administration, of the rural police, of the maintenance of forts and lighthouses, of sanitary inspection and all of the other general functions of a central government were charged to the remaining customs dues and to local taxation.

Naturally there was much grumbling and the cry was raised that the old system of draining the provinces for the benefit of Havana was still being kept in force. With the custom house here yielding an annual revenue of from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 and with no debt to meet, no army or navy to support and no swollen civil list to carry, it seemed an injustice to the smaller communities that they should not be left to apply their customs and revenues to local and provincial needs.

General Brooke's new order is apparently drawn to meet such criticism from the departments, for it designates the general purposes for which the island's revenue is to be spent under heads which cover all sorts of local wants. From the customs fund the cost of all barracks for troops will be paid, of the rural guards enlisted for each province, of the signal lighthouse and quarantine service, of road construction and harbor improvements all over the island, of charity work and hospitals and of civil administration in all the departments. Municipalities are also to be aided from the general fund when conditions justify such assistance.

As the customs revenues for the year ending Dec. 11, 1899, promises to reach $13,000,000 or $14,000,000, there will be money enough on hand to meet the most liberal demands that may be presented by the department commanders. Indeed, if customs receipts continue to hold at the present ration they could not only be made to satisfy all the present necessities of an insular government, but also to pay the expense of an army of occupation of from 10,000 to 12,000 men.

The announcement that Morra Castle and Cabanas fortress will be occupied by troops during the rainy season, is excepted here as notice that these two factions have at last been brought into a habitable condition. The work on the Morro was not so prolonged, but it took 75 days with a working force of 120 men to cleanse out the pesthole, Cabanas had become under Spanish administration. Yellow fever was chronic in this huge fort and several lives were lost in the process of purification.

No Franchises in Porto Rico.

Washington, April 22.—The granting of franchises in Porto Rico has been discussed briefly by the secretary of war and the president and it has been determined that nothing will be done until General Davis, the new governor of Porto Rico, has had an opportunity to make an investigation and report upon the matter.

The Father Was Justified.

Macon, Mo., April 22.—The grand jury reported its failure to return a true bill against John McDaniel charged with attempting to kill Milton Sickels, of the Third cavalry. Sickels is out on bond on a charge of assaulting McDaniel's 17-year-old daughter. Sickels was riding past McDaniel's house, when the girl's father picked up a shotgun and made after the cavalryman. McDaniel fired one barrel of the shotgun, but Sickels, badly wounded, effected his escape.

Bitten by a Vicious Horse.

McKinney, Tex., April 22.—Fred Allen, a young man here, had a section of the lobe of one of his ears bitten off by a vicious stallion that snapped at him as he was passing his stall.

BRUSH WITH REBELS.

Lawton is looking the Territory traversed by him lately.

Manila, April 22.—General Lawton has taken the field again. He is at the head of a column of troops consisting of the North Dakota regiment, two battalions of the Third and Twenty-second regulars, two guns of Scott's battery, three troops of the Fourth cavalry and Gale's squadron, all equipped for light marching order. This force started at 5 o'clock morning over the Novachos road, traversing the country previously cleared of rebels, but subsequently reoccupied by them. It is presumed that General Lawton by this movement will flank the enemy before joining General MacArthur, north of Malolos.

The Dakota regiment first encountered the enemy in front of Novachos. The rebels opened fire on our troops but their fire was silenced 15 minutes later, the enemy retiring in bad order and the Americans advancing along the rough road around Novachos. They were considerably annoyed by the fire of rebel sharpshooters from the jungle for two hours. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the rebels were in full flight, leaving many dead on the field, and our troops were compelled to take a brief rest in the shade as the heat was oppressive.

No additional news has been received here from Lieutenant J. C. Gilmore and 14 other men of the crew of the Yorktown who mysteriously disappeared at Baler, where they went to lend assistance to Spaniards surrounded by rebels. The whole affair is a mystery.

NINE MEN PERISH.

Sailors Caught in a Storm and Die of Thirst and Hunger.

San Francisco, April 22.—The steamer City of Para, from Central African ports, brings details of an ocean tragedy. While the vessel was at Corinto an open boat containing the remains of nine men who perished months ago and drifted ashore there. The bodies were horribly emaciated, and the manner in which their limbs were contorted showed that they must have died in horrible agony. Not a drop of water and not a particle of food was in the boat.

In December last, Louis M. Maslen, of the El Trumbo Pier company, three of the port officials and five boatmen went out to the mail company's steamer lying in the offing at El Trumbo. They boarded the mail boat and stayed until signs of an approaching storm warned them to return. The gale came up quickly and overtook the boat soon after it got away from the steamer. It was never seen again until it floated into Corinto harbor. Louis W. Maslen was the son of E. W. Maslen, deputy naval officer of this port. The names of the other victims are not given.

Reaches Sardinia.

Sassari, Island of Sardinia, April 22.—The king and queen of Italy arrived here on board the royal yacht. All warships were illuminated in honor of their majesties. The fleet hoisted the Italian royal ensign preparatory to being reviewed.

COLONEL CLARK SUICIDES.

He Sends a Bullet into His Brains in a Memphis Hotel.

Memphis, April 22.—Colonel M. Lewis Clark of Louisville, the well known racing judge, committed suicide in his room at Gaston's hotel. Colonel Clark had been indisposed for several days and Thursday evening after the day's racing at Montgomery Park, requested President Montgomery to take his place in the judges' stand on Friday, adding he would not leave the hotel. Friday night Colonel Clark was attended by Dr. Kennedy Jones, who announced the patient was suffering from melancholia.

Colonel Clark was up bright and early this morning, but did not leave his room. He ordered a drink of brandy shortly before 9 o'clock and, according to bellboy who served him, seemed to be in good spirits. About 9 o'clock the sharp crack of a revolver attracted guests passing through the halls. Attaches of the hotel were summoned and the door of Colonel Clark's room was forced open, and a grawsome sight met their gaze. Colonel Clark lay across the foot of the bed with a smoking revolver clutched tightly in his hand. A small hole in the right temple through which the blood was slowly oozing told the awful story. Colonel Clark was writhing in agony and died, not speaking a word. Dr. Jones was hastily summoned, but efforts to revive the suicide were of no avail and the popular trrman expired without uttering a word.

News of the sensational suicide spread like wildfire, and shortly after the tragedy occurred groups of men gathered on the street corners discussing the sad affair. Colonel Clark was very popular in Memphis having acted as presiding judge at the annual spring races for a number of years. He was a member of several local clubs and prominent in social and business circles.

TO PAY UNDER PROTEST.

General Torres Has so Far Refused to Accept Under Such Terms.

Washington, April 22.—Secretary Hay has cabled to Consul Clancy, at Bluefield, directing him to suggest to the American merchants at that point that they pay, under protest, the duties demanded by the Nicaraguan government, which were paid to the insurrectionist government, on goods imported into that port during February. This action was taken before the arrival of Minister Merry and the cruiser Detroit, and it is presumed the merchants have adopted the suggestion.

The action of the department was taken upon an appeal to it for protection from the extortion of the Nicaraguan government. From the correspondence in possession of the department it is apparent that the merchants offered some time ago to pay the demands under protest, but it is apparent that this proposition was not acceptable to General Torres, the Nicaraguan officer in charge of the Bluefields district. The authorities are confident that the next few days will witness the settlement of the incident.

Missouri Still Rising.

Omaha, April 22.—The Missouri river rose seven inches at this point during the night and is still rising slowly. A large amount of bottom lands are overflowed. Many railroad switching tracks in the bottoms are under water, but no main line is affected. On both sides of the river much valuable farm land is under water. Boyer island, below Missouri Valley, is flooded.

The Levee Gives Way.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 22.—The Payne levee at Hamburg, Ia., 80 miles north of St. Joseph, on the Burlington road, has given way owing to the high stage of the Missouri river. There would have been heavy loss of life, but some workmen, who had been trying to strengthen the levee, warned the farmers of their danger. Many fled leaving household goods and livestock behind.

George W. Keil Passes Away.

New York, April 22.—George W. Keil, who for the last 15 years was business manager of the New York Clipper, is dead from heart disease at his home in this city. He had been ill for several months. Mr. Keil was once private secretary to L. C. Gonnigle, manager of Booth's theater. Later he was manager of the Griswold opera house in Troy, N. Y., when Mrs. Emma Waller, a celebrated actress, was lessee. Mr. Keil was unmarried. He was 56 years old, a veteran of the civil war, prominent Mason and widely known in theatrical circles.

Returning to America.

Rome, April 22.—Archbishop Keane has asked for two years' leave of absence to return to the United States, and the pope has granted his request. The question of Americanism being solved, Archbishop Keane's presence at the Vatican is no longer necessary. It is stated that Manager O'Connell, rector of the American college in Rome, will also return to the United States.

Bud Meadows Gets Ten Years.

Ozark, Mo., April 22.—Bud Meadows will serve ten years in the penitentiary for killing Steve Bilyeu. The state will probably dismiss the other two cases against Meadows and his brother Bob; and the two Bilyeaus, now in jail on similar charges, will be permitted to give bail. No other trials will be held at this term of court.

Cure for Yellow Fever.

New York, April 22.—A dispatch to The Herald from Montevideo says the sanarelli's yellow fever serum is giving good results here and several persons have been completely cured by its application.

A POSITIVE DECLARATION.

WHAT you want, expect and pay for, you ought to have. When you buy "all wool" and it proves half cotton, it naturally sets you to thinking. When "half price" bargains prove to be high priced ones it causes more suspicion. We want the store to be like Caesar's wife, "above suspicion." That's why all wool means all wool and a bargain is a bargain here.

Think of this when you want a suit. You will get an honest suit here, one with that permanency of the fit which comes from correct tailoring, combined with perfectly woven clothes of dependable woolens, that shape holding quality which stays with the suit till it's worn out.

We intend making this the most momentus season in the history of our store. If goods and prices are reliable indications, the accomplishment of our object is already assured.

Ouida's Lowly Ink Pot.

One of Ouida's peculiarities is that she cannot write at a table, but invariably writes with a pad on her knee and an ink pot on the carpet. In this way she will sit for hours at a time. It is incidentally related that on occasions she has written as much as 20,000 words at a single sitting, but this is a statement that surpasses belief, however prodigious her powers of work. Authors have been known to dictated 12,000 words at a sitting, but to write 20,000 words or twelve full columns at a stretch, is a test of physical endurance to which even so prolific and indefatigable a writer as Ouida would hardly care to submit herself.—Philadelphia Press.

Silenced the Officials Man.

There was a crowd on an up-town Broadway corner the other evening densely massed around a prostrate form in the street, and tiptoeing to see over the closely packed shoulders of the people in front.

A tall, important looking man dashed up to the throng and cried in aloud voice:

"Why don't you confounded idiots move back and give the man a chance to breathe?"

Whereupon a small Milesian gentleman in the front row piped up:

"Begorra, it's a horse an' it's dead, so it is?"

And the reformer hastened on.

THE BODY MUTILATED.

Remains of Miss Brunot Found in a Well Near Pana.

Pana, Ills., April 22.—The mutilated body of Miss Jane Brunot, a wealthy woman of Danna, Ind., was found buried in an abandoned well on the farm of her sister-in-law near here. Mrs. Anna Brunot, her son Henry and Frederick Sibley, are under arrest in this city.

The chief of police says the three persons under arrest decoyed Miss Brunot to the garret of the farmhouse, shot her through the head and buried the body in an abandoned well.

The police also allege that Henry Brunot and Frederick Sibley killed the widow Mary McIntyre, whose mutilated body was found under the bed at her home in the Flatham mining district last February, their object being robbery.

Considerable talk of lynching is heard, but the strong guard of militia on duty here will prevent such action.

Later Henry Brunot made a full confession to Chief of Police Kiety that he committed the murder and Sibley disposed of the body.

Sibley later made a confession corroborating that of Brunot. Brunot denies the other murders attributed to them.

Bogus Cigar Stamps.

Chicago, April 22.—Bogus cigar stamps were discovered by local internal revenue officers on several hundred boxes of cigars which they say came from factory No. 3731, Ninth district of Pennsylvania, the proprietors of which are said to have been arrested in the east. The counterfeit certificates were found only on boxes containing 50 cigars and were readily detected by the obscure scars in the letters of the word "cigars." The result was telegraphed to the commissioner at Washington and instructions were received to seize all the contraband goods which were at first only detained. Over 200,000 cigars which came from the factory of the eastern counterfeiter have been located.

Another Seizure at San Francisco.

San Francisco, April 22.—Ten thousand cigars were seized here by internal revenue officers because the internal revenue stamps were found to be forged. Officers will not divulge the name of the firm from which the cigars were received. The cigars are the manufacture of factory No. 3471, of Lancaster county, Pa.

The firm, it is understood, has received thousands of boxes of cigars and pasted on them the fictitious labels. Agent Thomas is on the track of 2,000,000 fraudulently labeled cigars.

Another Poison Candy Case.

Hastings, Neb., April 22.—Miss Viola Horlocker, accused of sending poisoned candy to Mrs. C. G. Morey, and which came near resulting in the death of the latter and one of her friends, was arraigned before the county judge here. Her attorney asked a postponement of the hearing for 30 days and it was set for May 17. Bail was fixed at $5000, which was promptly given. Miss Horlocker was in a state of nervous collapse and had to be carried from the train to a carriage.

Wrecked on a Bridge.

Cincinnati, April 22.—A freight train on the Cincinnati Southern railroad met with a serious wreck on a bridge between Greenwood and Sloane's Valley, Tenn. A car broke down on the trestle and 350 feet of the trestle and bridge were broken down, causing a blockade of business for a day or two. An unknown tramp was killed and conductor J. E. Pepper and Brakeman Jennings of Somerset, Ky., were injured.

Guilty Swindler Sentenced.

New York, April 22.—Hirsch Coppelmann, who pleaded guilty a month ago to swindling Jacob Bernstein of Cincinnati, out of $13,000 by means of the gold brick scheme, was sentenced to four years and 10 months in prison. Saul Jacobs is now serving a sentence of 7½ years in Sing Sing prison for the crime committed by Coppelmann.

THE RIGHT TO APPOINT SENATOR.

Governor Stone's Selection of Quay Brings the Question Before Congress.

SOME SENATORS REFUSED SEATS.

Mantle, Allen and Beckwith's Appointments Were Not Ratified by the Senate.

COMPLEXION OF THE SENATE HAS CHANGED.

Republicans Generally Favored Seating of Mantle and the Democrats Opposed—Quay Was in Favor of Mantle.

Washington, April 22.—The action of the governor of Pennsylvania in appointing Senator Quay to fill vacancy occasioned by the failure of the legislature to elect a senator makes it certain that the question of legality of such appointments will again come before the senate.

The governor of Pennsylvania appoints Quay under the provisions of the clause of section 3, article 1 of the constitution, which reads:

"And if vacancies happen by resignation or otherwise during the recess of the legislature of any state, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies."

This question came up in 1803 in the cases of Mantle of Montana, Allen of Washington, and Beckwith of Wyoming, who were appointed under the circumstances of the Quay appointment.

By a vote of 32 to 29 these appointees were refused seats. The senate at that time was Democratic. The vote to seat Mantle was not pitched altogether upon party lines, but as a rule the Republicans were in favor of seating and the Democrats against.

If the senators who participated in the Mantle contest vote as they did in that instance and the newer senators vote along party lines the applicant will be seated since the Republicans have a large majority. Quay favors the seating of Mantle.

Furthermore, Quay has many friends among the senators of both parties and it is likely that many of the Democrats would vote to assist him on personal grounds.

If it results in the seating of Mr. Quay the governors of California, Utah and Delaware will also make appointments to fill the vacancies from those states.

The Next Speakership.

Des Moines, April 22.—Congressman Hull, chairman of the committee on military affairs, said that the Iowa delegation had not yet made up its mind who it would support for speakership of the house of representatives. He said:

"I understand that Representative Hopkins of Illinois will be a candidate. I regard his chances as very bright. I believe the west is entitled to the speakership of the next congress. There has never been a speaker who lived west of Ohio, and the time is opportune for the election of an active and able western candidate."

Purchased the Texas Mexican.

Austin, April 22.—According to advices from a reliable source which have reached here, Collis P. Huntington and associates have purchased the Texas Mexican railroad, which runs from Corpus Christi to Laredo, a distance of 160 miles. It is a narrow gauge line, which was owned and operated by the Mexican National Railroad company. It had been a losing investment ever since its completion and the parent company has been anxious for a long time to get rid of it.

Cincinnati, April 22.—Internal Revenue Collector Bettman and his entire force went on a raid for counterfeit revenue stamps which resulted in the confiscation of over 500,000 cigars. The work will be prosecuted further.

BUT FEW VIOLATIONS.

Civil Service Rules Kept up Very Well in Appraiser's Department.

Washington, April 22.—The committee consisting of Mr. Lyman, chief of the appointment division of the treasury, and Mr. Chance, the chief of the division of special agents, appointed by Secretary Gage to investigate reported violations of the civil service law and rules in the administration of the appraiser's warehouse in the New York warehouse, has made its report.

The committee found that there have been some evasions of the civil service rules in the cases of seven or eight men who had been appointed temporarily pending the establishment of an eligible register by the civil service commission, but were retained in the service after such register had been provided. Five special employees were dismissed and their places abolished. In the cases of 34 laborers who were employed a part of the time as clerks, the appraiser was notified to employ only so many as were actually needed for that service and to dismiss such as were not needed.

The changes will go into effect May 1. The findings of the commission are said to agree in all important particulars with the conclusions of the civil service commission which recently conducted an independent investigation.

The Responsibility Fixed.

Washington, April 22.—The secretary of the navy has made public the result of a court of inquiry which was charged to fix the responsibility for the breaking down of the steering gear of the cruiser Chicago, as she left New York in February last. The court found that Naval Constructor Hibbs was responsible, but as he is now in Cuba and has not had the opportunity to be heard, no action has been taken in his case. John Nolan, master ship fitter, and Darius Gallagher, leading man in the New York navy yard, are also charged with responsibility and are suspended for 10 days from work and pay.

First Payment on the Maine.

Washington, April 22.—The navy department has authorized the first payment to be made on the account of the battleship Maine, now being built at Cramps, the amount being $96,166. First North Carolina Out.

Savannah, April 22.—The First North Carolina regiment, Colonel Armfield, was mustered out of service in this city. The First North Carolina was the first regiment of American troops to enter the city of Havana. An incident of the muster out was the presentation by the officers of the regiment to Governor Russell of North Carolina a handsome silver service, which was forwarded to Raleigh by express, accompanied by a written address. The disintegration of the command here precluded a personal presentation.

Ninth Illinois at Savannah.

Savannah, April 22.—The Ninth Illinois regiment has arrived at quarantine. Secures a New Trial.

Dallas, April 22.—In December, 1895, Addison Pate, a deputy sheriff, was shot and killed by two unknown men at the foot of Commerce street near the bridge. The Moore brothers were arrested weeks afterwards, one in the Indian Territory and the other in Texas. They were indicted by the Dallas county grand jury and in November, 1897, Jack Moore was given a life sentence by a jury in the criminal district court. The other day at Austin the court of appeals reversed the case and remanded it for trial. At the court house it was the consensus of opinion of those familiar with the facts in the case and the grounds given for the action of the higher court that Moore cannot be convicted again.

They Love Bryan.

Augusta, Ga., April 23.—The Third Nebraska will be mustered out May 11. The boys of the regiment want to see their first colonel, W. J. Bryan, before they are mustered out. They are importuning their friends and newspapers to send Colonel Bryan an invitation to make them a visit here before they are disbanded.

"Every man in the regiment loves Colonel Bryan," said one of the captains. "We unite to a man in a pressing invitation to him to review us once more before we are disbanded."

Barn Burned and Stock Cremated.

Versailles, Mo., April 22.—The large frame barn belonging to Fred Wallace, living six miles northwest of this place, was consumed by fire with all of its contents. Besides the loss of considerable hay, grain and farm machinery, 20 head of calves and 12 head of horses were burned to death. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building was lightly insured.

Quay Reaches Washington.

Washington, April 21.—Senator Quay of Pennsylvania was met at the station on his arrival here by a number of his friends who congratulated him upon the outcome of his trial and appointment as senator. He declined to be interviewed. There were a number of callers at the house and many congratulatory telegrams were received.

New York Publisher Dead.

New York, April 22.—James Eagan, publisher of the New York Railroad Man, and a well known writer for magazines, is dead at his home in Flushing, L. I. He was at one time connected with the New York Evening Telegram and the American Home Magazine, and was associated with Lemuel E. Quigg, as editor of the Flushing Times.

New Trial Granted.

Hillsboro, Tex., April 22.—Tom Sebastian, charged with an assault to murder T. C. Webb, near West, recently and upon trial given four years in the penitentiary, has been granted a new trial.

The Most Liberal Policy

EXTANT. EQUALLED NOWHERE!

Not Approached by the Contract of any other Company.

On March 8, 1899, the PENN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY made a radical departure. While retaining all of its great variety of plans of life insurance and, for the purposes of securing full information in order to judge of the acceptability of applicants, adhering to its present forms of proposals, it decided upon the issue of any one of its contracts of insurance it would immediately endorse thereon the following:

"This Policy is Absolutely Incontestable from date of issue for any cause except non-payment of premium, anything in this contract to the contrary notwithstanding."

While the Company will scrutinize carefully all applications, yet once agreeing to accept a risk, it is accepted in its entirety, wholly and irrevocably, without provision or condition, except the payment of premium.

The endorsement which it now puts upon its policies is not limited to a special class of insurers or to a few special forms of contract. All good and acceptable risks are treated alike, thus preserving a proper mutuality. No one is asked to forego his dividends—they may be used in reduction if he desires; no one is put into a special class; no invidious or unjust distinction in the membership is permitted. The contract of life insurance is so broadened and liberalized that it is a simple and inviolable promise to pay at a given date, or upon death, and NOTHING IN LAW OR EQUITY OR CIRCUMSTANCE OR CONDITION CAN POSSIBLY DEFEAT IT. It is the crystallization of the idea expressed in the few words: "You pay us; we pay you." It is free from conditions than bond of the United States, and is as unfailing security.

The effect of the above endorsement is upon the policies of the Penn Mutual to make them a world-wide contract, free from all conditions as to residence, occupation, travel, habit of life, and as to manner, time or place of death. It is the ultimate in life insurance, for no contract can possibly go any further than to be an unconditioned promise to pay.

Without any increase in premium, or without any stipulation as to the use of dividends, the policies embrace:

First—Automatic extension—the longest.

Second—Paid up insurance—the largest.

Third—Cash or Loan Values—the most liberal.

Fourth—No conditions as to residence, occupation, suicide, dueling, violation of law or military or naval service.

Fifth—While absolutely incontestable for any cause, except non-payment of premium, they provide for immediate payment upon receipt and approval of proofs of death; for reinstatement in case of lapse at any time; premiums are accepted within thirty days of the date due, if the insured is in good health; notes are accepted in settlement; every possible consideration is shown the insured.

Sixth—While the policy itself is the complete contract, a copy of the application is furnished for the information of the insured.

Nothing has heretofore been done in life insurance which will command such world-wide attention and instant approval. It shows that the PENN MUTUAL has reached the goal toward which others are sauntering, and far in advance of all its competitors.
